Another player from their favourite game contacts them in the game chat.

Your friend doesn't know this player.

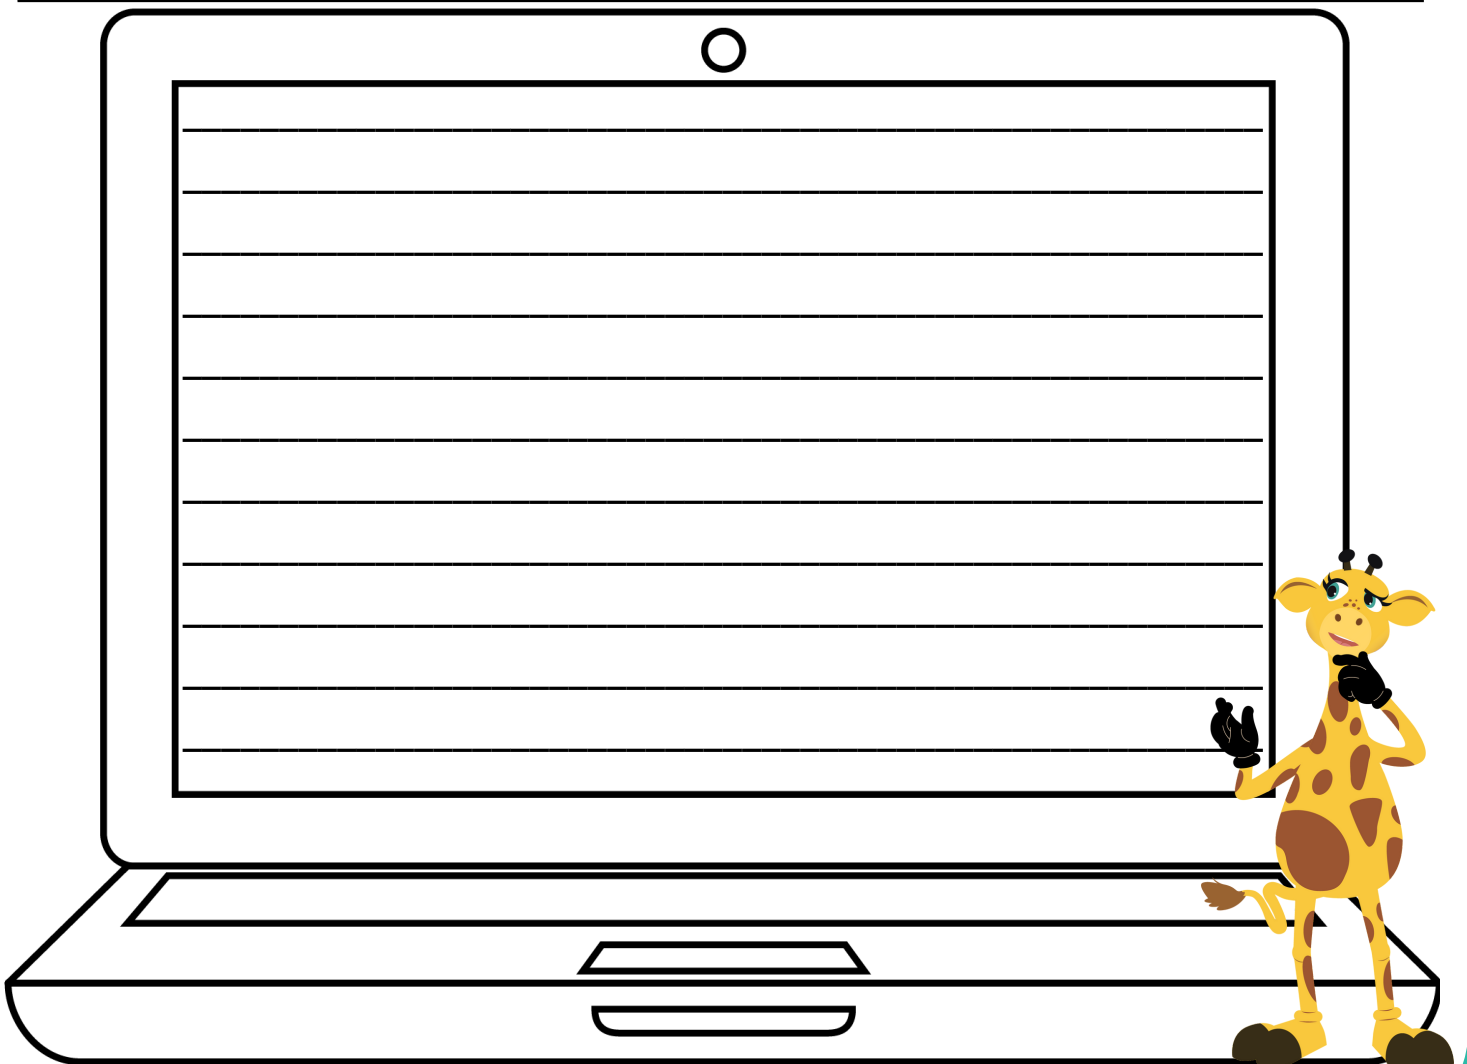

The stranger starts asking your friend some personal questions about where they live, and where they go to school.

Assessment Task:

Write a scripted conversation between you and your friend.

- How do you respond?
- What do you and your friend do next?
- Provide strategies for how can you help to solve this problem and ways to protect yourself and others against this type of problem in the future?
